

Error Message

The screenshot shows a web browser window displaying the settings for a mobile application. The main content area is titled "Demo Version - Mental Health Reporting System". On the right, a mobile device preview displays an error message: "The case sharing settings for your user are incorrect. This user must be in exactly one case sharing group. Please contact your supervisor." Below the error message, it says "You are currently working as gab. Click here to use yavantwadiel@gmail.com." The settings page includes sections for "Basic", "General Settings", and "Java Phone General Settings". The "Basic" section has checkboxes for "Case Sharing" and "Web App", both of which are checked. The "General Settings" section has a checkbox for "Send Data Over HTTP" which is unchecked. The "Java Phone" dropdown is set to "Nokia S40 (default)".

Groups

The screenshot shows a web browser window displaying the "Groups" settings page. The page title is "Groups". Below the title, there is a description: "Groups are a useful way of combining multiple Mobile Workers into one entity that can be managed in the following ways:" followed by two bullet points: "Reporting Groups are used in reports to filter and view data." and "Case Sharing Groups allow their members to share a case list in a case-sharing app." Below the description, there is a "Create Group" button. Underneath, there is a table titled "Project Groups" with columns for "Group Name", "Reporting Group", and "Case Sharing Groups".
